

D&O Liability Insurance

We work with companies, boards of directors and individuals to navigate the complexities of D&O (directors & officers) and ERISA fiduciary liability insurance policies. Our experienced team provides advice to boards and management, minimizes the risks of personal liability, helps negotiate better insurance, defends against litigation, and assists with such recoveries from insurance companies.

Counsel to Boards and Officers

We advise on corporate bylaws, charters and indemnification agreements with a keen eye toward director and officer liabilities concerning corporate governance, securities law and fiduciary duty.

Policy Review, Drafting and Negotiating

We work with your broker to review, draft and help negotiate insurance policies. We take policy language seriously because we know that a few words can make millions of dollars' worth of difference in defending a liability claim.

Coverage Disputes

Our attorneys understand the key role D&O and fiduciary insurance plays in insurance disputes. When litigation ensues, we work hard to defend our clients and to make sure underlying defense costs are paid to the maximum extent by the insurance policy.
