

Shareholder Agreements

Neal Gerber Eisenberg advises our private wealth clients on family business planning. We focus on tax-efficient strategies to convey a business to the next generation. The attorneys in our Private Wealth group adeptly structure shareholder agreements that ensure the continued success of the business and accommodate the interests and abilities of family members.

Our team of corporate, tax and private wealth advisors combine a national reputation for excellence with unmatched experience developing successful business plans for high net worth individuals and their families. In concert with families and their trusted advisors, we manage control of closely held businesses through shareholder agreements structured to meet strategic business goals.

We also devise employee stock ownership plans and compensation plans for nonparticipating family members, and other creative structures to facilitate succession planning and long-term business success.
