Seth D. Lamden Elected to American College of Coverage and Extracontractual Counsel

Seth D. Lamden, partner in the Insurance Policyholder practice group, has recently been elected as a Fellow of the American College of Coverage and Extracontractual Counsel (ACCEC).

ACCEC is a national organization comprised of almost 300 preeminent lawyers involved in coverage and extracontractual matters, with Fellows representing both policyholders and insurers and Honorary members from academia. Established in 2012, the College is focused on the creative, ethical, and efficient adjudication of insurance coverage and extra-contractual disputes, peer-provided scholarship, professional coordination and the improvement of the relationship between and among its diverse members.
