Enfish and Chums

James P. Muraff, partner in the Intellectual Property & Technology Transactions practice group, co-authored an article examining a post-Alice software patent decision. "Enfish and Chums," published in the July 20, 2016 issue of IPPro Patents, discusses the recent ruling in Enfish, LLC v. Microsoft Corp., that clarified how the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) should apply the two-step patent eligibility test the Supreme Court set forth in Alice.
