

NEAL
GERBER
EISENBERG

Publication

03/26/2024

To Mark or Not to Mark? U.S. Patent Holders Should Take Time to Carefully Consider Their Patent Marking

Intellectual Property Partner Mike Turner authored the article "To Mark or Not to Mark? U.S. Patent Holders Should Take Time to Carefully Consider Their Patent Marking," published by Thomson Reuters Westlaw Today.

In the article, Mike emphasizes the importance for companies holding U.S. patents to regularly assess their patent marking strategy, highlighting the consequences of proper and improper marking, encouraging compliance with marking requirements and discouraging false marking, as well as advising on best practices to ensure accurate representation of patented products and avoid legal ramifications.

Click here to read the article.

CLIENT SERVICES

Intellectual Property
Patents

RELATED PEOPLE

Mike R. Turner